

Triumph Roofing and Construction Expands Residential Roofing Company Services Across Northwest Louisiana

September 11, 2026

September 11, 2026 -

Triumph Roofing and Construction has expanded its residential roofing services to homeowners throughout Shreveport, Bossier City, Benton, Haughton, and Stonewall, Louisiana, addressing growing demand for storm-resistant roofing across the region.

The expansion comes as Northwest Louisiana continues to experience seasonal severe weather, including high winds and hail that frequently damage residential roofs. As a local roofing company serving the area since 2020, Triumph Roofing and Construction now provides asphalt shingle roofing, metal roofing, roofing inspection, roofing installation, and roofing repair to a broader base of communities.

The company reports that demand for professional roofing inspections has increased following recent storm activity. Regular inspections allow homeowners to identify minor damage before it develops into larger structural issues, particularly ahead of peak storm seasons. Triumph Roofing and Construction offers both routine assessments and rapid response services for properties affected by wind and hail.

Neil Wood, a company representative at Triumph Roofing and Construction, noted that the expansion reflects the practical needs of area residents. "Homeowners across Northwest Louisiana face real weather challenges every year, and access to reliable roofing inspection and repair makes a measurable difference in protecting their properties," Wood said. "Extending residential services to communities like Benton, Haughton, and Stonewall allows more families to address roofing concerns before small problems become expensive ones."

The company provides a range of residential roofing materials, including asphalt shingles and metal roofing systems. Asphalt shingle roofing remains a widely chosen option for its durability and cost efficiency, while metal roofing has grown in popularity among homeowners seeking longer-term performance and resistance to severe weather. Triumph Roofing and Construction works with established manufacturers such as Atlas Roofing, CertainTeed, GAF, IKO, Malarkey Roofing Products, Owens Corning, and TAMKO Building Products.

Beyond installation and repair, the company assists homeowners with storm damage documentation and the roof insurance claims process. Its team works alongside insurance adjusters to verify damage and support fair resolution of claims, a service that has become increasingly relevant as storm events affect the region.

Wood added that the company approaches each project with an emphasis on assessment and long-term results. "Every roof is evaluated on its own condition rather than a one-size-fits-all approach," Wood said. "Whether a property needs a full installation or a targeted repair, the goal is a durable outcome that holds up to Louisiana weather."

Homeowners in the expanded service areas who are interested in residential roofing inspection, installation, or repair can contact us today by phone at 318-674-PROS (7767).
